HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The following historical sketch contributed by our townsman to the Carthage, (Ill.) Republican we copy:

Mt. Vernon, Ky., Feb. 26, 1909.
Editor Carthage Republican:

In the month of April, 1855, being then only 16 years of age, I concluded that I wanted to go to Carthage, Ill., and was at that time living with my brother, J. C. Williams, in his dry goods store in Mt. Vernon, Ky. On the 15. day of April, 1855, I "struck out" for Carthage having a brother, W. H. Williams, then living on Rock Creek in Hancock county, Ill., some four miles from Carthage, near Solomon Elifritz.

Never having traveled any before it was going to be very uncertain whether I ever reached my destination or not, being so young and green as I then was, but I was bent on trying it.

When I reached Louisville, Ky. I inquired the best way of getting to Carthage and I was told that there was a steamboat down at the wharf called "The High Flyer" which was to go down the Ohio river to the Mississippi, thence up the Mississippi river to a landing at Warsaw, Illinois, which is only twelve miles from Carthage.

I did not know when it was told me what a wharf or steamboat was because I had never seen either of them passing Mt. Vernon, where I lived. So I got a fellow to go with me and show me where and what they were.

When we got to the wharf he showed me a steamboat with great, large letters on her side, "High Flyer," so I went aboard and found the man who they said "run the machine" and asked him if that boat was going to stop at Warsaw. He replied, "Yes it would," so I made contract with him and paid him my fare to land me at Warsaw or "bust the b'ler." Everything being ready and the passengers aboard the boat, we pulled out for Warsaw.

The man "what run the thing" said we would "get thar" in five days but it took us swimming the watter one week before landing at Warsaw.

During the voyage, lasting five days as before stated, we fared sumptuously on codfish and potatoes.

We reached Warsaw at night and I went to Valentine Wilson's who was running an eating and sleeping house, and asked him if I might stay at his house that night. He replied, "certainly," so I staid.

Next morning I asked him which way led to Carthage. He replied by pointing out a road and said it "went" by Well's who was also running an eating and sleeping house.

He said if I didn't get any farther than Well's that day he would let me stay with him, but having ample time I pursued my journey till I reached Carthage, a distance of only twelve miles from Warsaw.

On the following day I went out to my brother's home (W. H. Williams) on Rock Creek, and he and his family were so surprised to think that I had gotten so far away from home all by myself. I thought myself that I had accomplished much in making such a trip, all alone and without being hurt or getting lost.

I staid in Carthage and the country of Hancock one year and I can truthfully say that Hancock county is one of the best sections of this world I have ever seen.

The county is so smooth and level you can play marbles almost anywhere without their rolling down the hill.

The best thing about the country is that no crowin making his perambulations ever flew over a richer soil than that found in Hancock county.

Land which then sold for $10 to $30 per acre is now selling for over $100 per acre. This section was then noted for the quantity and quality of watermelons raised, and at that time so much vegetation decaying and other miasmatic influences prevailing, that I took chills and fever and nearly shook all my teeth out.

During my illness I staid with my brother-in-law, James F. Wilson, and one of my well days I slipped off and went up into James Wilson's watermelon patch and found just one melon ripe and then there, I deliberately and all by myself consumed that "water melon."

After eating the melon as aforesaid, I went back to the house and my sister, Virginia Wilson, asked where I had been. I answered, "I have just been up to the watermelon patch."

She said to me: "Did you eat any melon?" I said "I only ate one."

"Well, well," she said, "It will kill you." But thanks be to the Lord I have never had a chill from that day to this.

While I was in Hancock county I got acquainted with many of the citizens of Carthage and vicinity. Carthage then had a population of about 250, and is now said to contain about 5000 inhabitants.

At that time Jesse Cunningham was a merchant in Carthage and a young man named "Hud" Slater and a good fellow by the way, "was clerk in the store. Shull & Cherrel and Taylor Bros. were also merchants. Charley Main kept groceries including liquors. Uncle Sam Wil-on kept hotel. His daughter, Lois Ann, assisted him.

Swaney Hamilton was also a land lord. Harrison Crawford did blacksmithing, Byrant T. Schofield and Alec Simpson were lawyers, Allen McQuary, real estate agent; Mason McQuary, county court clerk;

John Spangler school superintendent. Jo Hawley then lived on the place on which J. C. Williams now lives.

The persons named above were well known citizens of Carthage at the time referred to and the following are the names of citizens of the surrounding neighborhoods in the county.

William DeHart, who lived on the Macomb road a short distance from town had a good farm and a fine apple orchard Charles Wilson, Allen Wilson, Uncle John Wilson and his family, Miss Mary and Ann Wilson and Lindsey and his son, also James McQuary. Emanuel Showers, Jim and John Wiley, John Oglesby, "Sol" Elefritz "Ink" Stevens and Green Haley, Sam, David and Jacob Mack, the Shoups and Vanhorns complete the list of noted citizens that I now remember.

The people were all very kind and good to me and I shall ever retain a fond remembrance of Hancock county and her people. I have wished many times to be back again in Carthage and see the improvements made since I was there and but a boy, fifty-four years ago.

I have looked many times at the bullet holes in the old jail door made by the firing at Jo and Hiram Smith, Mormons who, were trying to make there escape from the citizens. The Mormon temple was then standing at Nauvoo, on the Mississippi river, twelve miles from Carthage.

How many of these old acquaintances of mine in Hancock county and the town of Carthage have gone to the "Great Beyond?" I know that many of them have passed away and we hope that their souls are at rest with our great and good heavenly Father. So mote it be, and may those who are yet living, live to a good old age and when death calls them away that they may go to a better world and with their Creator who has been watching over them all their days while here on earth.

With my best wishes for the living and the dead, I am truly,
D. N. WILLIAMS.

AN AKRON MAN.

MR. WILLIAM F. STEESE.

Mr. William F. Steese, 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, writes: "I have been troubled for several years with catarrh of the stomach. I have used different patent medicines to no effect whatever, and have doctored considerably with family doctor. Sometimes his treatment would relieve me for a few weeks, but would eventually have to go back to him, and that had kept up for several years."

"I was advised to use Peruna, and have taken three bottles. Never felt so good in my life. Am going to continue using it. Wouldn't be without it in the house. I will gladly recommend it to any one afflicted with catarrh of stomach, or stomach trouble of any kind."

The above is an oft-repeated story. Troubled for years with chronic catarrh. Tried different remedies and doctors to no avail. Peruna was advised by friends. Instant relief experienced. Great gratitude to Peruna expressed. This, in brief, is a story that is repeated to us a great many times every year.

No one could be in touch with our vast correspondence for one month without being impressed with the sincerity and truthfulness of these kind of testimonials.

Peruna promptly produces an appetite, corrects digestion and relieves stomach difficulties that have resisted other treatment.

THE Supreme Court of the United States Monday decided the case of the Adams Express Company vs. the Commonwealth of Kentucky, involving the right of the company to ship liquor into a local option county, contrary to the law of the State, in favor of the company. The case involved the shipment of whiskey from Indiana and Tennessee to Bonnieville, for which the company was fined $50 for each offense by the Circuit Court of Hart County. The Supreme holds that the Kentucky law conflicts with the Federal Constitution and that the express company are common carriers and as such have a perfect right to deliver whiskey to local option territory on Interstate Shipments. Such being the case, we cannot see where Kentucky is to profit from its present local option law regulating the shipments of whiskey.

GOOD ROADS.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE KENTUCKY CONSTITUTION.

The Bosworth-Wyatt Good Road Amendment to the Constitution of Kentucky, which passed the last Kentucky Legislature by its almost unanimous vote, and which is to be voted on at the next November General Election at 1909, by the voters of Kentucky, is as follows,

to-wit:

"The credit of the Commonwealth may be given, pledged or loaned to any county of the Commonwealth for public road purposes, and any county may be permitted to incur an indebtedness in any amount fixed by the county, not in excess of five per centum of the value of the taxable property therein, for public road purpose in said county, provided said additional indebtedness is submitted to the voters of the county for their ratification or rejection at a special election held for said purpose, in such manner as may be provided by law, and when any such indebtedness is incurred by any county, may levy in addition to the tax rate allowed under Section 157 of the Constitution of Kentucky, an amount not exceeding twenty cents on the hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of said county for the purpose of paying the interest on said indebtedness and providing a sinking fund for the payment of said indebtedness."

Section 177 of the Constitution of Kentucky forever prohibits the State from lending its aid to or in any way helping the counties in road building, or taking any part whatever in behalf of the cause of good roads.

Section 158 of our State Constitution limits the power of any county to become indebted more than two per cent of the assessed valuation thus making it impossible for the greater number of our counties to raise sufficient funds to do any road building at all.

Section 175 of our State Constitution provides that a county cannot levy exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property therein for any purpose whatever thus making it impossible for any of the counties to provide sufficient means to create a sinking fund and pay interest on the debt created to build roads.

As a consequence of these limitations and restrictions of the power of the counties, and also of the commonwealth of Kentucky, good road building in Kentucky has been a thing of the past since the adoption of our present Constitution.

This Constitutional Amendment will remove these restrictions, which are a barrier to the passage of such a system of Road Laws by our Legislature, as will enable our counties and our State, and perhaps our Federal Government, to join hands in this important work of building and maintaining a system of improved highways in all parts of Kentucky the accomplishment of which would do so much for the advancement, progress and development of Kentucky and mean more than all else for the comfort, convenience and improved condition of all our people.

If this Constitutional Amendment receives a majority of the votes at that election, then it will be possible for Kentucky to pass such a system of good road laws as are in effect in the States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Michigan, Massachusetts, California and Pennsylvania, and in fact every other State where progress is being made in building and maintaining good roads, while our own Kentucky is at a standstill.

If you are in favor of good roads vote and work for the Bosworth-Wyatt Good Road Constitutional Amendment and lend a helping hand in making it possible for every county in our State to have the very best improved highways.

The following article, sent out from Frankford has appeared in all the leading daily papers of the State:

Some of the most interesting laundry work ever done in political history is being eagerly awaited in the Eleventh Congressional District as the result of the announcement of by close friends of Charles Finley that he will be a candidate to succeed Don C. Edwards in Congress.

Caleb Powers is conceded already to be a candidate, and Edwards' friends say he will not give up the prize he has held for several terms without a struggle. So a three cornered fight that will attract attention all over the State is expected when the time comes for the Republicans to make their next nomination.

NO-SYMPATHETIC TIE.

Any fellow-feeling that Finley or Powers might have for each other as the result of the cloud which both were under so long—the indictments for complicity in the Goebel assassination conspiracy will not keep either out of the scramble for the Congressional job say friends of both men at the Capital. Both feel that the Republicans owe them something for their "martyrdom," and each thinks he is entitled to preferment first, because he was compelled to remain in exile so long away from home to escape trial, and Powers because he spent so many years in jail after his three convictions.

SITUATION COMPLICATED.

The situation in the Eleventh will be a rather complicated one say Eleventh District Republicans who hold office "on the square" now, and a few are able to conjecture just how the alignment of forces will be made in a three-cornered race as forecast. One office-holder said to-day:

"Friends of Finley say that he is certain to have the 'machine' behind him when he gets into the race. You know he is from Whitley county, and so is Railroad Commissioner A. T. Siler. When Finley had his 'home coming' from Indiana after his pardon by Governor Wilson, Mr. Siler made a address of welcome.

MACHINE AGAINST MACHINE.

"Commissioner Siler is chairman of the District Committee and is very strong. On the other hand Congressman Edwards is in a powerful position, and has a machine, too, which will have to be reckoned with. Caleb Powers is practically on the outside, you might say, as far as the organization, or machine, is concerned. His incipient boom for Congress last time did him no good, and a great many of the best Republicans of the district think that he should keep as far from the spotlight as possible. And Finley also comes under this category."

A WAY BACK SUGGESTION.

Another Eleventh District office-holder said, when asked about the Congressional prospects in the "Bloody Eleventh": "The best thing that Caleb Powers and Charley Finley can do is to get as far back in the mountains as possible and stay there with their mouths shut and out of public sight."

Sugar had its inning in the Senate, formal consideration of that schedule having begun after the lumber schedule had been laid aside temporarily. Senators Foster and McNary, of Louisiana, both Democrats bore out the theory that the tariff is a local issue by advocating, in extended speeches, a high duty on sugar of all grades. Senator Shively, of Indiana, in his maiden speech, made a general attack on the pending tariff bill.

Mt. Vernon is to have a brass band with seventeen pieces.

Since it will be composed almost entirely of old band boys, we expect to see them ready for service before many weeks. Walter Mullins will be the leader and he is certainly a good man for the place.

If you want the town to have a good band show your interest by helping out on the expense of getting started. It is no little expense to buy the horns, music, etc. To say yes I want to see the town have a band but not able to help is not much encouragement.

Mr. Barbee McAfee, former cashier of the Pine Knot Banking Co., but now in charge of a bank in Ohio, and Miss Uta Hutcheson, of Owenton, sister of Cashier J. W. Hutcheson, of Brodhead, and Mrs. M. B. Salin, of this place, were married at the home of the bride in Owenton, Wednesday. Both are well known here and have many admiring friends who extend to them their heartiest congratulations.

The following from the Louisville Herald is highland deserving compliment to a Mt. Vernon boy, who is a student at the school for the blind Louisville: "Spurgeon Smith, partially blind, and Elijah Brown, totally blind, of the Kentucky School, were the stars of the contests, the former scoring twenty four points, the latter thirteen.

Smith's record of 19 feet 10 inches in the running board jump; 300 feet 8 inches in the baseball throw; 30 feet 1 inch in the three consecutive jumps, besides his magnificent time in the dashes, make him one of the best track and field men ever produced in this section of the country.

His team mates expect him also to win the sprinting championship of Kentucky and Indiana when he meets all of the "cracks" of the two States in the Blind School meet next Saturday. Smith is also a football player of ability, and was a great aid to the Blind School team last fall."

The Doctor's First Question

"How are your bowels?" This is generally the first question the doctor asks. He knows what a sluggish liver means. He knows what a long list of distressing complaints result from constipation. He knows that headaches, bilious attacks, indigestion, impure blood, and general debility are often promptly relieved by a good liver pill. We wish you would talk with your own doctor about this subject. Ask him at the same time if he approves of Ayer's Pills. Do as he says. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The prediction that immigration will send the population of the United States up to 200,000,000 in the next fifty years brought out a heated debate in the Northern Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Denver where Congressman Bennett, of New York a commissioner to the assembly; Dr. V. R. McIlwan, of Pittsburg; Dr. Charles Thompson, D. D., of New York, secretary to the board of missions, and others participated.

COOKS

Eat What

You want of the food you need
Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Why Suffer?

If you suffer pain from any cause, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will relieve it—and leave no bad after-effects. That's the important thing. Neither do they create a habit. More often the attacks become less frequent, or disappear altogether. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have no other effect except to relieve pain and quiet nervous irritation.

"We are never without Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. My husband and son, aged 15 were always subject to sick headache until we began using these Pills, and they have broken them up entirely. Don't think they have had to use them for six months. I recommend them to every one. A few weeks ago I heard an old lady friend was sick. I went to see her. She was down with LaGrippe, and nearly crazy with awful headache. I gave her one of the Anti-Pain Pills and left another for her to take in a short time. They helped her right away, and she says she will never be without them again. Last winter my husband was taken with pleurisy on both sides, and I know he would have died if it hadn't been for the Pills. In less than half an hour he was sweating, and went to bed and slept."

Your druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and we authorize him to return the price of first package (only) if it fails to benefit you.
